

Karma and Alignment - A key to Greener Pastures

A Prelude:

We all love to live. We all love our life. We've begun ventures that have given us everything we dreamed of previously. Life continues to delight people with one or the other pleasantries. And when we start loving the pleasant surprises, we become accustomed to aligning ourselves to the best. But can we align our life to something that naturally brings the best to us?

What if we say yes and surprise you with actions that act in the universal accord? That's what Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) is all about. Aligning deeds isn't just a responsibility.

It's lesser like responsibility and more like a hobby that we can cultivate on the hoof.

What are planets, and why do they carry multifaceted responses?

Planets are the messengers that become our guides, irrespective of whether we welcome them or accede to their overtones. Planetary overtures start signaling as we approach our day-to-day activities. But as we are busy with many things and various stints, we don't comprehend any detail. A few of us realize what's happening but with no intention to see through it.

At such junctures, planets approach our life. They attempt to disclose what's going on. Do you know why one is less likely to discern the problems? It's because one rushes to conclusions only to slip a cog. One realizes that one is in trouble. However, one never tries to find out the root cause of the problem.

What's the bias? How do we give in to them?

Conservatism Bias:

When we get presented with new pieces of concrete evidence, we may concede benefit to the beliefs to which we are clinging. We want lives to run in the same direction as they did to date. We may not have time to accept all that seeks our attention. The concept is nothing but conservatism bias.

Many other preferences take our valuable time but with no resolution. In the event of having no steadfast allies, we prefer leading a life of troubles instead of living it to the fullest. We forget that our very own ideas solicit our time until they have it. That's what Karma Alignment Technique fulfils by bridging the gaps.

Are you really depressed or only addicted to the word 'Depression'?

One almost fails to conclude that depression is much below feeling depressed. Depression exists until one has access to it. It starts eluding us when we realize that whatever depressed us lived only due to our access to it. Our ideology may offend us. Why? Because we become addicted to many habits that are like the habitats that depress us.

But when we turn each of our doctrines into ideas that build our ideology, we are no longer the depressed ones. We restart it all with ease and zeal that become our confidence. It's the point when we infer that our idea of depression was just a word and nothing beyond that.

Why is Karma alignment more like an idea to look up to and less like something we count on?

Ideas are still shaping us for an ideal life. We are heading for a life free of complexities. And Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) unveils all those ideas awaiting us. It doesn't propel anyone to conform to any norms. It offers superior freedom that one can navigate through. It defies restrictions and helps a fortune seeker venture beyond the narrow domestic walls.

Karma isn't something we count on. It's all about everything by which we live. The lifetimes we led to date were the outcome of the deeds that accompanied us. But our present can become an outcome we expect later in life. Why can't we give a thought to expediting the affirmative result of our deeds? Yes, we can.

Why do misconceptions about planets prevail?

Human behavior results from the pattern human beings develop as they grow. We have known planets solely using the information we received via various social or online mediums. The books that we utilize may be hard to decipher. The details we receive about planets may continue to either scare us away or leave us in shambles.

We form a straitlaced opinion about various planets either under our very own influence or due to disinformation. We either seek to forswear changes or try to adhere to the data we grab quickly. We lose our sensitivity due to known or unknown reasons.

When we encounter something that imputes a mishap to any planet, we overgeneralize the celestial object or the situation. We forget a simple rule that possibilities can be numerous, or at times, endless. That's when the theory of Karma Alignment comes into play.

Smoothening our life isn't just a notion. It's about dispelling the idea that a smooth life isn't easy. Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) trains us at utilizing every concept. It paves our way to a new world of possibilities where we can exploit every notion and enhance its utility.

How does Karma Alignment Technique shape our experiences?

When a situation hinders our path, we surmise that some planet has created a hindrance.

Obscurity as such may ideally be a situation where we can establish possibilities. When we ascertain the direction of our thoughts, it confirms that the options are indeed endless.

Aligning the Karma can be simple as a can of corn. It only facilitates the changes in the channels or the medium of our day-to-day activities. Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) becomes a course of action that we can begin from the comfort of our homes.

It evokes the idea that the way we do things can alter or modify the divine outcome of our actions. It inspires us to accept that every idea has its share of benefits. These benefits don't only get restricted to the seeker. It also broadens the horizons of success for the seeker's next of kin.

Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) confirms that the things that cause stress stem from a psychological state. This psychological state is something that rises when we react to the words like stress or depression. This technique concludes that there are various actions beyond a restrictive psychological state.

How does Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) help you find the victor in you?

It's a technique that augments our planetary states. It's no magic. It's only an approach to changing lives into a transformation worth a million. It doesn't utilize anyone's wealth. Instead, it specializes a seeker to consciously use the wealth and resources for personal, professional, spiritual, individual, and ideological growth. It teaches us to find a possibility in every situation.

We would love to welcome all who want every change to turn into transformation. Your ideology is something you have received from your ancestors. It's a gift that you have nurtured for every future generation. You always loved to make the most out of every chance.

Your presence is like a heritage. Grow every second and prosper through the moments that seek to be the brightest part of your lives. Because your existence is remarkable, and every life in the world, including your own life, is unique.

Chapter 1:

Planetary relations

In case you want to know about the alignment of planets, you need to know various aspect-based relationships among the planets. Here we are not considering the special aspects of mars, Saturn, and Jupiter. In fact, we are considering the 1-5-9, 2-12, and 1-7 relationship between the planets.

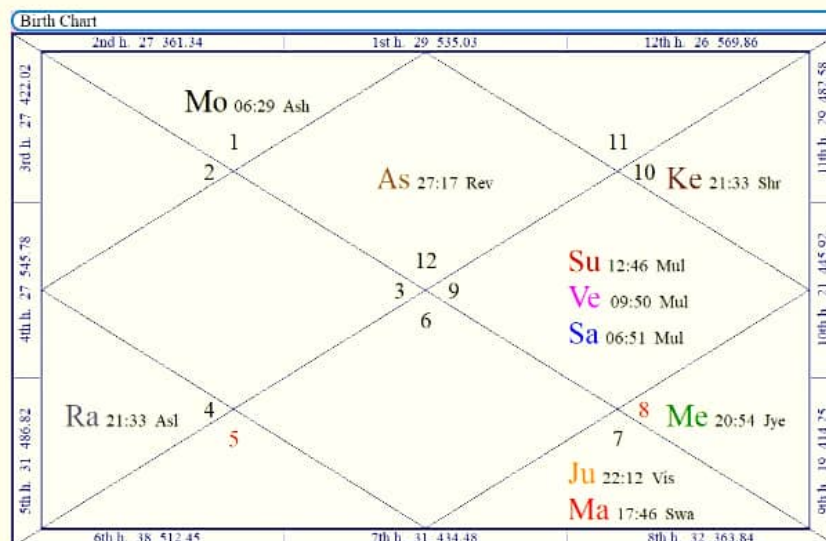

For example, if Saturn is placed in the second house with respect to Jupiter it will be a Jupiter Saturn combination. If Venus is placed in the seventh house from Venus, then it will be considered a Saturn Venus conjunction.

Similarly, if Rahu is placed in trines (1-5-9) from Jupiter then it will be called a Jupiter-Rahu relationship. We also take 3-11 relationships among the planets but on a conditional basis. Right now, we will stick to 1-5-9, 2-12, and 1-7 relationships only.

Here, the degree also matters a lot. For example, if Jupiter and Saturn are placed in trines to each other then it will be a conjunction. But calling it a Jupiter Saturn or Saturn Jupiter conjunction depends on the degrees of these two planets. For example, if Jupiter is 3 and Saturn is 4 degrees, then it will be a Jupiter Saturn conjunction. If Saturn is 4 and Jupiter is at 5 degrees, it will be a Saturn Jupiter conjunction.

Here it is believed that the planet with the higher degree is already holding the significance of the lower degree planet. Whereas the planet with the lower degree is trying and yet to achieve the significance of the higher degree planet in the future.

Look at this chart if we want to study Jupiter then it relates to mars moon and mercury. Here based on the degree we must write the combination like this.

Moon Mars Mercury Jupiter

It shows that Jupiter is already carrying the effect of Moon mars and mercury, but the Mercury effect will be the greatest as it is right behind Jupiter.

Let's look at Jupiter in this chart where it is connected to Mars and Mercury through a 2-12 relationship. Now as per the degrees of these three planets. This combination will be like Jupiter Mars Mercury which shows that Jeeva is trying to attain the significations of mars and mercury.

The nine planets here signify these things.

Jupiter is Jeeva means self.
Moon is manah means mind.
Saturn is karma means actions.
Mercury is buddhi means intelligence.
Ketu is mukti means liberation.
Rahu is Maya means an illusion.
Mars is deha means body.
Venus is bhoga means pleasures.
Sun is Atma means soul.

Apart from these keywords, nine planets signify these things also.

Sun: Father, Fame, Government, Soul.

Moon: Mother, Daughter, mind, change of place, travel, blame, eloping, losses, and fickle mindedness.

Mars: confidence, anger, anxiety, brother, machines, hastiness, and fights.

Rahu: Danger, unethical, insecurities, expansion, grandfather, foreign lands, shadow, and hard times.

Jupiter: Jeeva, knowledge, wisdom, guru, luck, growth, and prosperity.

Saturn: Karma, grief, misery, dedication, elder brother, and truth. Venus: arts, luxury, pleasure, wealth, wife, beauty, and vehicles. Ketu: maternal grandfather, liberation, quit, blockage and detachment.

Mercury: intelligence, education, speech, learning, and playfulness.

We need to combine the karakatwa of the planet and must predict and align accordingly.

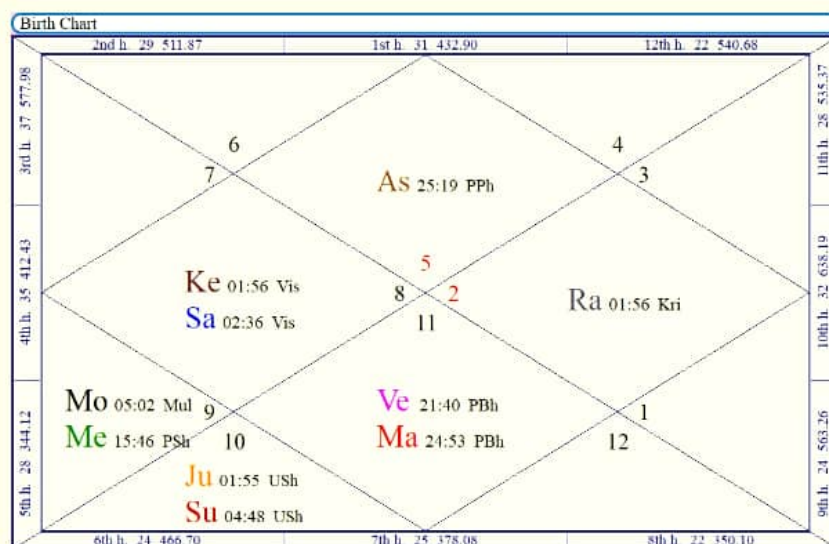

For example, if someone is having the combination of Mercury Saturn Venus then it shows that someone might choose an educational career and he will make a lot of wealth also through the same.

Similarly, if someone is having the combination of Rahu Jupiter then it shows that the grandfather will be a knowledgeable personality.

Rahu sun shows problems or danger to father. It also shows that the person will have issues with the higher authorities and the government.

We need to align ourselves with the planetary energies as per their significations.....

For example, if someone is having a Mars Saturn combination then any career with Martian significance will be good for the individual. This is because Saturn is already carrying the mars effect.

Looking at the chart above, it is carrying the Ketu Saturn combination which showing that natives may choose astrology as a profession as Saturn is already carrying the effects of Ketu. When we talk about the alignment of karma. We can do it through houses, Rashi, and planets. For example, if someone is having issues with the eight houses, we can suggest the person get involved in some research work. If the twelfth house problem is there, then one is advised to do some charity or meditation.

While aligning with Rashi, we can do it through the significance of Rashi. For example, if someone is having planets in movable signs then the person should have a flexible attitude with a lot of movement in life.

Lastly, it happens at the planetary level, and it is the most effective of all the levels. Remember God has created nine planets to deliver the fruits of one's karma. We can align our karmas with planetary energy to lead a more meaningful and purposeful life.

Chapter 2:

Saturn and career

Saturn is the karma karaka in Jyotish and hence considered as the prime significator of the profession. Decoding a profession or its alignment can be done by looking at the planets making relation with Saturn in a natal birth chart. Significations of these planets get added to whatever a person is doing in his career.

For example, if someone is having a combination of Jupiter and Saturn then it is considered as the person will have luck factor supporting his profession. He can become someone who is guiding people like a guru or a professor.

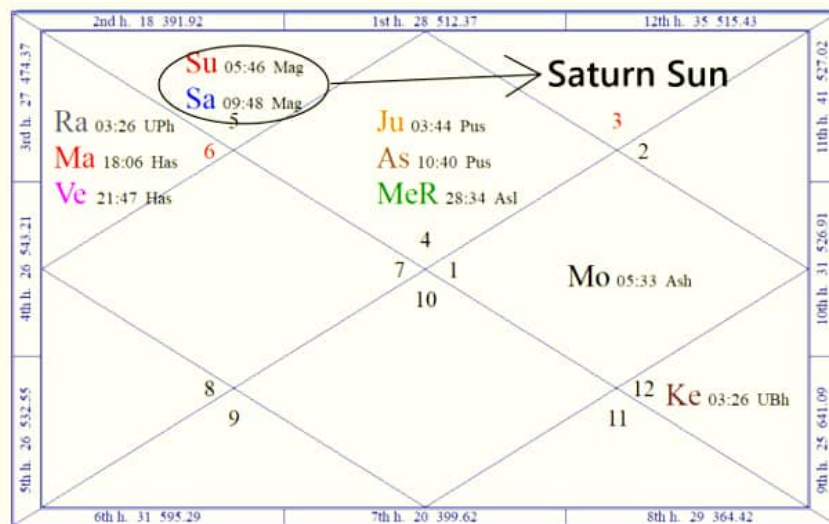

Saturn Sun Conjunction:

Although not a smooth conjunction in the wake of the enmity between Sun and Saturn, the combination intrigues millions of Jyotish learners. The Sun and Saturn conjunction may create disturbances in the native's professional life. Such natives may face ego clashes with their colleagues or boss. The ego of these natives creates major obstructions in their careers. The natives often end up with multiple enemies due to their headstrong nature. Utilizing these combinations positively, however, can make a lot of positive differences. Sun is the facilitator of fame and popularity, whereas Saturn is the causative of Karma or action. Apart from rising to fame and accolades, the natives with the Sun and Saturn conjunction excel notably in their occupational endeavors. We often stumble upon the fact that the natives with the Sun and Saturn conjunction share the career objectives with their father. They may enter their family business or work with their family in any chosen area. The natives with Sun and Saturn conjunction should always maintain cordial relations with their father and family.

They can associate themselves with the government for a fruitful career. A rise in the popularity of these natives may even trigger enmity with multiple people.

Saturn and Moon conjunction:

Being one of the most mysterious conjunctions in Jyotish, Saturn and Moon conjunction perplexes dozens of learners. Apart from conferring a fickle-minded approach towards one's career, the Saturn and Moon conjunction may cause a sheer lack of emotional support to the native. A deep sense of alienation may often overshadow the native. But as every conjunction carries positive aspects, the combination of Saturn and Moon also endows a native with its share of benefits. Effective utilization of this conjunction may help a native make great strides in their career. Saturn represents a profession or occupation in astrology.

The Moon is the quickest planet in the solar system signifying changes and travel in astrology. You may be startled at the fact that the natives born with Saturn and Moon conjunction attain occupational success far away from their birthplace. Travels for professional pursuits are another way to reach the echelons of success with the Saturn and Moon conjunction.

Frequent changes in the profession may occur if a native has this combination.

I will reiterate that no planetary conjunction is either good or bad. Everything depends upon the way we utilize things in our lives. Classical dissertations may throw a meek spin on the Saturn and Moon conjunction.

A native may leave the birthplace at the right time to avoid the ill effects of this combination. The native unable to relocate may opt for a career that requires regular or routine travel. With Cancer being the 4th sign of the natural zodiac, Saturn in Cancer may yield the same results. The natives who have Saturn in the 4th house may also witness similar results.

Saturn and Mars Conjunction:

Saturn and Mars conjunction remains one of the most challenging combinations in Jyotish. It may involve challenges not due to Mars being the natural malefic. It's because of the linkage of Mars's significance with grudge, anger, arguments and tussle. The native may make impulsive decisions in life and end up regretting them later. The professional life of the native may face roadblocks due to insidious people and their betrayals.

However, I reiterate that the effects of the planetary conjunctions depend mainly on how we utilize them. Like every other combination, the Saturn and Mars conjunction also denote both good and bad impacts. Natives with the Saturn and Mars conjunction can adopt various ways to reap remarkable gains from the combination.

Such natives may achieve great success in the technical fields. Defense and army are among the other sectors where these natives can prove their mettle. A native may excel as a Vastu consultant if the combination includes Jupiter. The natives with this conjunction may prefer sleeping on the floor to facilitate the good results of Mars.

Staying physically active through activities like jogging and exercise is also beneficial. Eventually, it's all about balancing and channelizing the Martian energy.

Saturn and Rahu Conjunction:

Now comes one of the most discussed conjunctions in Jyotish, i.e., Saturn and Rahu conjunction. One of the most common traits of the natives with this conjunction is insecurities.

This combination may trigger sudden troubles or unexpected changes in the career.

The unpredictable nature of Rahu makes this combination both mysterious and full of perplexities. As we know, Rahu is a planet known for its unorthodox and mirage. When Rahu connects itself to Saturn, the causative of Karma, it shows the possibility of success in an unorthodox career. The person may excel abroad or in the sectors that utilize one's shadow, like cinema or film industry. We may often stumble upon starlets hogging overnight stardom. The combination is beneficial even for those willing to establish themselves over the social media channels such as Facebook, Instagram and YouTube.

Saturn and Jupiter Conjunction:

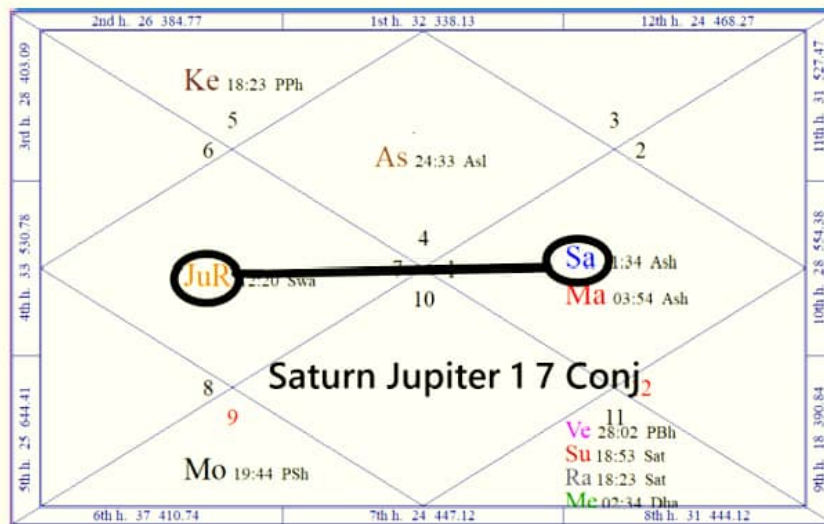

The Saturn and Jupiter conjunction operates well and yields beneficial results, provided the combination is free of the malefic planets conjoining it or occupying the houses trine to it.

The natives with this combination enjoy a divine grace in their professional pursuits. The natives with this conjunction should always seek blessings from their guru. With Devguru joining Saturn, the lord of Karma, these natives themselves can become great gurus in their professional life.

You may see dozens of successful trainers and life coaches born with this combination. The natives with this combination can attain phenomenal growth in their professional pursuits with the inborn divine grace.

Jupiter represents expansion, higher learning and wisdom. The more knowledge you gain, the brighter are the chances to succeed in your endeavors.

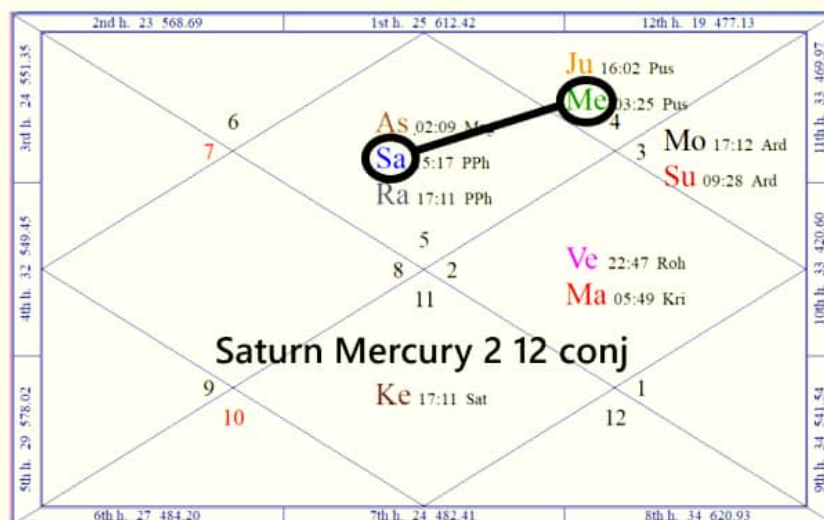

Saturn and Mercury conjunction:

The Saturn and Mercury conjunction holds infinite potential for a successful career. The combination may, however, have a flipside. The natives with this combination may take longer than expected to learn new concepts. As we studied, Saturn is known for its slow and steady gait.

Mercury is related to education. The conjunction may, therefore, make a person practice new concepts regularly for command over them. However, the natives may be quick at grasping subjects that Saturn represents.

Since Mercury is the signifier of business and commercial activities, this combination makes the native prefer owning a business over pursuing a job. Accounting, commissioning, education and trade are the sectors favorable for these natives. They are excellent persuaders and can become extraordinary salespeople.

Saturn and Ketu Conjunction:

The most difficult yet the most miraculous conjunction in Jyotish is the Saturn and Ketu conjunction. Being the signifier of liberation, Ketu represents detachment in Jyotish.

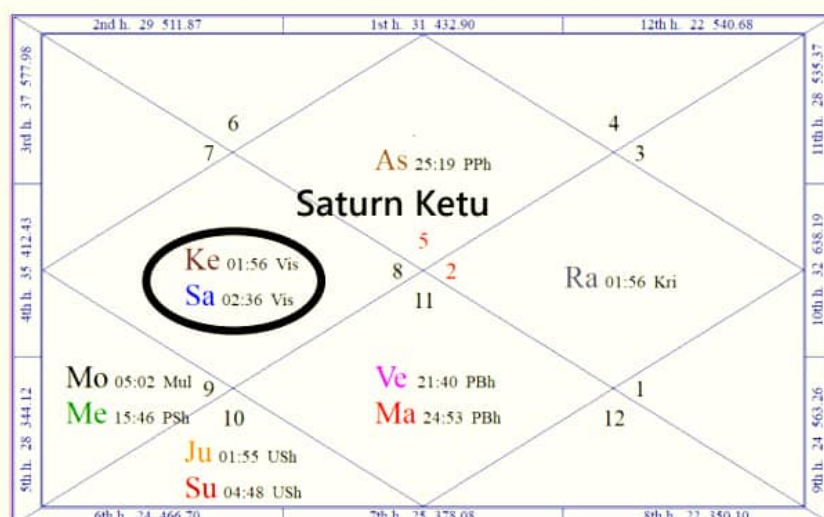

These natives may feel a sense of getting away from their profession. Although this combination may cause a loss of consistency in career, proper utilization may help these natives rise to great heights. Yoga, Medical, Law and Consultancy are the professions highly beneficial for these natives.

The positive aspect of this combination is that these natives may sense an invisible force guiding them all along in their careers. This combination also denotes how the Karma of these natives can help them attain salvation. Ketu indicates roots and research. These natives may reach greater echelons of success in the fields of research and development. People belonging to the R & D departments in the firms worldwide may have this combination. You may even see many successful astrologers having this combination.

With the Karma Alignment Technique, the natives with this combination can get good results.

Saturn and Venus Conjunction:

One of the best conjunctions for a successful career is the Saturn Venus conjunction. This is because karma karka

Saturn is getting attached to the wealth of karaka Venus. This conjunction gives a lot of wealth to the profession. There will be an increase in wealth and prosperity after marriage. Professions may relate to beauty, art, luxury, and vehicles. It's a kind of Dhan yoga-producing combination. This is because these planets rule the second house of wealth and the eleventh house of gains as per the kalpurush kundli.

Once in a life native is going to have a powerful influence in society and chosen career field.

Chapter 3:

Mercury & education

Mercury - What's the green planet in a nutshell? Won't you love to dig deeper into the green planet and find out how it lays the foundation for your academic world? Let's find out what makes Mercury the cornerstone for your academia. Most of us correlate Mercury with intelligence. And we are right to do so. Mercury indeed governs how one chooses one's education and repaints one's knack for finesse and achievement.

Jupiter or Mercury? - Who's the causative of education? Most of us would be baffled as to whether Devguru manages our education or any other planet. Well, Mercury is like a brainwave that's kind enough to facilitate your ideology. Jupiter, on the contrary, is the entity that builds your wisdom. And therefore, it's Mercury that upholds your educational interests. It's your business acumen that sets you apart with an aggregate making you unique. Mercury is also a significant constituent in your relationships.

Planets and their conjunctions - An overview:

When any planet conjuncts another planet/s, the conjunction makes headway for various aspects of a native's life. The universe is creating grounds for the native's present and molding the native's future. Planetary conjunctions are like a celestial impetus whose abidance welcomes you for a life free of complications. You will start loving the journey and enjoy unfolding how things are coming your way. The only thing the natives require is their willingness to turn the changes into one and unique transformation.

What's the right way to understand planetary conjunction?

There's a former and a latter even in the planetary combination. It may have surprised you. Well, you heard us right. The planet in earlier degrees takes the first place. The planets in higher degrees go on to reserve their slots in ascending order. When it comes to multiple celestial bodies, it's advisable to mention the body in the lower degrees first.

What do trine houses represent in a horoscope? The planets occupying the 5th and 9th sign/house from any celestial entity maintain the same features.

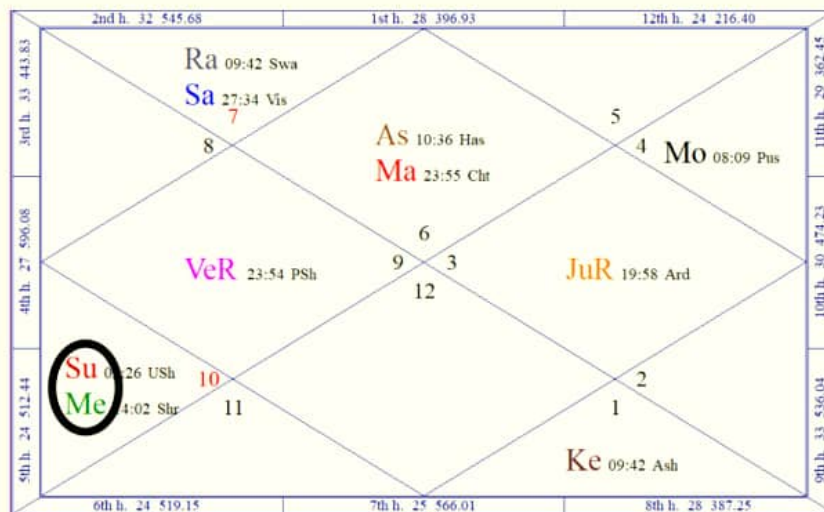

1. Sun and Mercury - The prince and the administrative control:

Sun is the causative of a native's soul. Sun even represents the father in a native's chart. The natives with Sun in the lower degrees and Mercury in the higher degrees may share various traits with their father. It's a situation where the adage 'The chip off the old block' comes true.

The natives would readily prefer his father's favorite subjects. And the aptitude of the native's father may offer a glad hand to the native if and as needed. It may be simple as a can of corn for the natives to gain proficiency in whatever their father undertook. Exchanging the position involves Mercury in the lower degrees and Sun in the higher degrees. The natives with this conjunction may love to learn every skill the Sun represents.

2. Moon and Mercury: On a higher octave of the mindfulness:

What do you interpret when you hear the term 'subconscious'? Of course, most learners of astrology would be keen on knowing whatever they knew subconsciously. If Moon is in lower degrees and Mercury in the higher degrees, the native may gain ground beautifully in various careers. Psychiatry, food business, travel, hotel management, food processing, and home science are some of the best career options for these natives.

These natives are sagacious intellects, with their intelligence always active on the subconscious level. These natives must prefer the topics that interest them. They will embark on a quest for farsighted excellence, provided they graduate in their favorite discipline or gain a vocational advantage in their favorite subject. They are quick to learn, quicker to grasp and perhaps the quickest ones to apply their favorite skills.

A few suggestions may transform their gleams into ideas. These natives should mosey around their favorite place. A stroll in the garden may take away their boredom. And they are ready for the next awesome thing to do. It all happens due to the Mercury having crossed their Moon.

Next in line is conjunction with Mercury in lower degrees and Moon in higher degrees. These natives may inherently love studying the topics that Moon represents. However, the flip side of this conjunction is betrayal and defamation. These natives may face dishonor due to their friends or romantic partners. These natives should, therefore, be careful of those they get romantically involved. Be selective even when you come across anyone half-fellow-well-met.

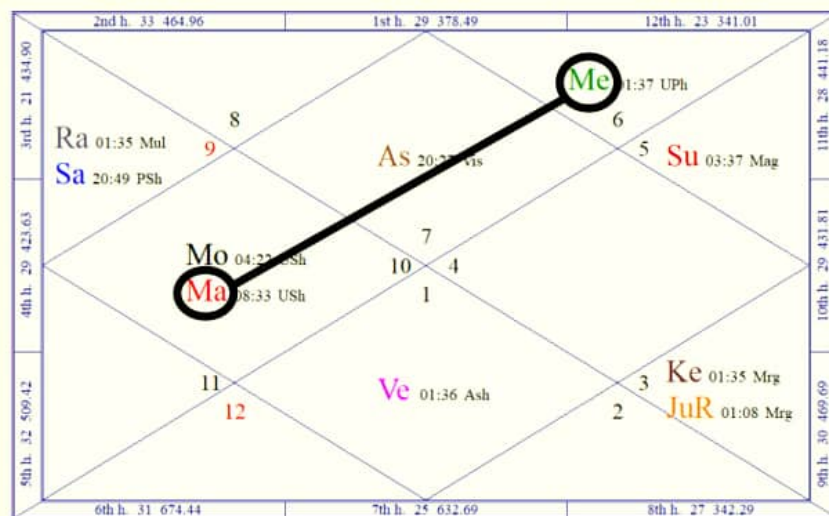

3. Mars and Mercury: A union with the bellwether:

And now comes the spearhead of the zodiac and joins hands with the prince. Be it Mars and Mercury or the other way round, being physically active matters a lot for these natives. For those with Mercury in lower degrees and Mars in higher degrees, apt physical exertion is necessary.

The physical workout will prevent academic fronts from going awry, reinstating the balance as needed. If the conjunction involves Mars in lower degrees and Mercury in higher degrees, the native may enter the technical sector. These natives are even adept at engineering, realty, or property businesses. It's a conjunction that works best when the energy of Mars is in optimum practice.

4. Rahu and Mercury - A quirk of celestial abode:

Being a mirage, Rahu brings unexpected changes when conjuncts another planet. It's up to the natives as to how they benefit from conjunction. Rahu and Mercury's conjunction is worth numerous raised eyebrows. The combination of Rahu and Mercury likens photographic memory.

Rahu in lower degrees and Mercury in higher degrees amount to Rahu and Mercury conjunction. Although Rahu is notorious for creating mirages, its combination with Mercury may work best if the natives study away from their hometown. Many smokers may have the combination of Rahu and Mercury.

When it comes to Mercury in lower degrees and Rahu in higher degrees, it may yield a grotesque level of intelligence. These natives may be expert learners as online learners. Offline learning, on the other hand, may sound dreary to them. These natives should therefore activate Rahu in their bedroom.

The natives who have Rahu in higher degrees and Mercury in lower degrees may always prefer studying abroad. Photography and Tinseltown or the film industry may be a sector worth a lifetime achievement for these natives.

5. Jupiter and Mercury: Doyen of wisdom ennobling the prince:

And we are set out to unveil the journey when the Guru joins hands with the prince. Teaming up with the doyen of wisdom confers decorum upon Mercury, the prince. When Jupiter is in lower degrees and Mercury is in higher degrees, we can confirm it further depending upon the natural airflow in a native's house.

When Mercury is in lower degrees and Jupiter is in higher degrees, the native may love pursuing a religious education. The native may love chasing greater echelons and horizons of a set of subjects. The mysterious way to spot the natives with this combination is their urge to grope the nose repeatedly. The natives with this combination should prefer a residence with opulent airflow and ventilation.

6. Ketu and Mercury Prince teaming up with the liberator- What's next?

Notorious for causing a disturbance in education, this conjunction involves deep analysis. The native with Mercury in initial degrees and Ketu in higher degrees may face hurdles in education. The native may have a flair for the streams that Ketu represents. The combination may facilitate the knowledge of astrology.

Law, justice, Ayurveda, and Medical and Allied Medical Sciences are the other choices. These natives may even excel in the endeavors that include excavation. Regular meditation is one of the best techniques to count on for these natives. Remaining connected to the religious and spiritual heritage helps these natives to a great extent.

The aegis of Lord Ganesh may raise infinite hopes for these natives to succeed in whatever they undertake.

The sixth sense of such natives may be more advanced than others. The natives who have Mercury in lower degrees with Ketu in higher degrees should write their way to excellence. More formally, these natives should practice their academic or vocational endeavors in a written form.

Writing may resolve many blockages, with Ketu representing blockages and Mercury representing a resolution in the combination. The natives who have the conjunction of Mercury and Ketu may have pursued their education in a convent school.

7. Mercury and Venus: Elegance complementing the princely realm:

The conjunction is a boon for the operators of the beauty business and art lovers. It's awesome to study the natives who have Mercury in lower degrees and Venus in higher degrees. Fashion designers, interior designers, gemstone businesspeople, and financiers may have this combination. These natives can increase their wealth by gaining knowledge and education.

More formally, the better the information, the more the wealth.

These natives may prefer subjects and occupations with a higher scope for monetary profits. The natives with Venus in lower degrees and Mercury in higher degrees can opt for various sectors. The natives should concentrate on studying subjects that Venus represents.

8. Saturn and Mercury - The causative of Karma and results governing the prince

It's common nowadays to come across people having chosen an occupation other than what they pursued in their graduation or postgraduation program. But when the governor of Karma teams up with the prince, the picture may be different. These natives should prefer only the education they wish to parlay into their profession.

Being a trader, retailer or commissioner can bring a great deal of success to these natives. These natives may be quick to grasp the subjects that Saturn represents. Utilizing one's information as actively as possible in occupation may better experiences for these natives.

Chapter 4:

Venus and wealth

What's the allegory of aestheticism all about?

Ecstasy strikes when we hear the word 'Venus'. Being the signifier of wealth, spouse, relationships, productivity, and luxury, Venus shines out as the elixir of life.

How do conjunctions influence your life?

The difference in the degrees of the planets matters the most as we begin our studies of conjunctions. Any celestial body combining another may either boost the results of another body or extract its effects.

1. Sun and Venus: A place where tractions gain ground with confidence:

Sun, the causative of soul joining hands with the divine sophist, may leave various things to learn. The natives with Sun and Venus conjunction should avoid being libidinous in the daytime. Sensuality and physical intimacies in the daylight may yield troublesome results for the natives with this combination.

Being a daytime debaucher and having this conjunction shows that Sun and Venus may hamper the native's overall wellbeing. These natives may end up with an incurable disease, with Sun governing the mortal body.

Malefic entities such as Mars, Rahu, and Ketu may intensify this combination. Sun and Venus conjunction may create hurdles for the native's health if not managed properly. These natives may offer sweets made from flour to propitiate this combination. The natives with a weak Sun in this combination may prefer extra salt in their meals. These natives are perhaps those who appear confident but may be floundering through their life.

2. Moon and Venus: The strangest one with ambivalence:

This conjunction surprises us with many contradictory situations. The combination interests our intellectual curiosity, with Moon representing Mother and Venus representing spouse. These natives should stay away from their mothers to ensure optimum marital bliss.

The natives with Moon and Venus conjunction are likely to prefer scrumptious delicacies. Presentation and garnishes over the food fascinate these natives the most. These natives should distribute or donate good food to attract an influx of wealth.

These natives should spend some money or invest it to secure their wealth. These natives may consider offering a mixture of raw cow milk and homemade butter in a steel pot to a temple. This remedy is helpful to maintain the harmony between mother and wife.

3. Venus and Mars: The obdurate conquest:

The son of mother earth joins the celestial sybarite to amplify wealth through the business of realty. These natives can invest in real estate or lands to propitiate this planetary combination.

The easiest way to ascertain the positive functionality of this combination is through the status of the native's brother. Stay physically active to ensure the substantial flow of wealth. Male siblings of these natives may prosper with this combination being assertive in the native's chart. This combination may influence the native's spouse. The spouses of the male natives with this combination often struggle with their health and temper.

4. Venus and Rahu: Do the math:

Rahu signifies locations away from the birthplace. Venus, as we know, represents wealth. These natives should prefer earning their livelihood away from their native place. The spouse of these natives may be unpredictable. This combination may even lead to infidelity. Either the native with the conjunction may cheat on his spouse or vice versa. The best aspect of this combination is its tendency to confer infinite wealth.

Rahu is known for his expansionistic nature and diplomacy. These natives may either end up being swindlers or diplomatic fortuneseekers. These natives should revel in luxury goods depending on their bank balance and affordability. Keeping Rahu active through ostensible revelry and Sybaris may raise hopes for such natives.

5. Jupiter and Venus: The cream of the crop:

This combination is the unison of wisdom, decorum, conscience, ethicality, and the harbinger of wealth. And the combination indicates that these natives should uphold conscience and morality in their demeanor. Keeping the planets conjoining Venus always contented helps the natives in various ways. These natives should always revere their tutors, teachers, guides, and godfathers to uplift their wealth.

Unnecessarily criticizing or hurling verbal abuses at the teachers may lead to loss of wealth. Indulging in mortification or blasphemies is forbidden for the natives with Jupiter and Venus conjunction. Make sure your faith in your spiritual practices never flinches.

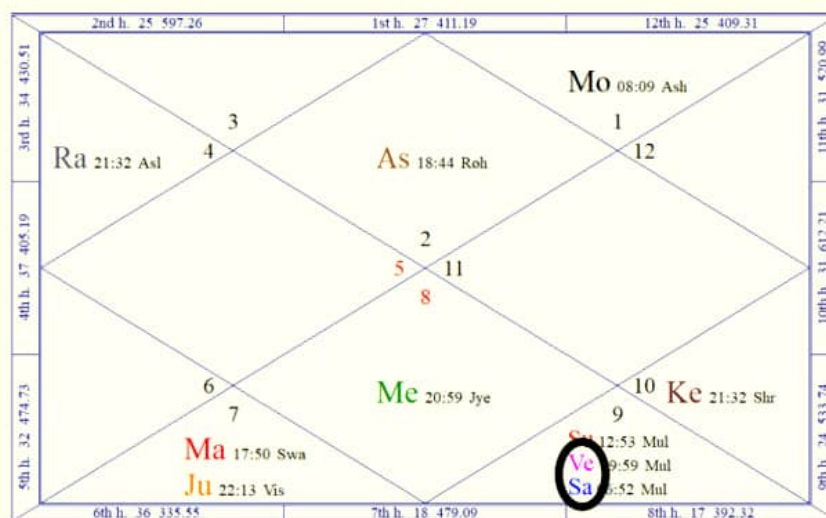

6. Venus and Saturn: - Don't let the grass grow under your feet:

When the causative of sedulity joins the herald of wealth and luxury, it offers numerous insights into your professional life. The natives can welcome massive wealth through their occupational endeavors. Saturn signifies that these natives should treat their subordinates and employees with the utmost respect.

These natives should behave in an orderly manner and with optimum discipline. Staying active with a managed schedule can bring wealth and satisfaction, establishing full-fledged well-being for these natives.

7. Venus and Mercury: Thriving on the responsible freedom:

Staying jolly and making merry often define life at its perkier best. Mercury is a planet of euphoria. However, these natives may get habituated to straining at gnats and swallowing camels. Indulging in meaningful communications and toeing the line can help these natives excel in their endeavors.

Writing is another way for these natives to sit on a gold mine. Mercury also signifies journeys over short distances, trading, and learning. A native may undertake the endeavors incorporating the factors above and augment the ways to welcome wealth.

8. Venus and Ketu: Keeping a low profile:

When the causative of detachment teams up with the divine endower of wealth, it inescapably denotes a sense of austerity. The term 'asceticism' isn't always about someone abandoning the home and becoming a hermit. This conjunction seeks to propel the native into relinquishing worldly matters.

More the wealth, the more the native loses interest in worldly matters. These natives should start treating wealth as a matter of secondary significance. Their lifestyle must be simple and devoid of a show-off. These natives may perform financially well with little to no regard for the overall financial profits.

And how do we liken various planets to the ten incarnates of Lord Vishnu?

1. Sun - Lord Ram
2. Moon - Lord Krishna
3. Mars - Lord Narsimha
4. Rahu - Lord Varaha
5. Jupiter - Lord Vamana
6. Saturn - Lord Koorma
7. Budh - Lord Gautam Buddha
8. Venus - Lord Parashuram
9. Ketu - Lord Matsya

What do you expect as we sum up a dissertation on Venus?

The planet associating itself with Venus reflects wealth. It's up to the natives how they go about and clinch the wealth, using the entity conjoining Venus.

Below are the steps directing you to strengthen your wealth and welcome better prospects:

1. Those with the combination of Sun and Venus may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Lord Ram as an offering.

2. Those with the combination of Moon and Venus may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Lord Krishna as an offering.

3. Those with the combination of Mars and Venus may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Lord Parashuram or Lord Hanuman as an offering.

4. Those with the combination of Venus and Rahu may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Goddess Durga or Lord Varaha as an offering.

5. Those with the combination of Venus and Ketu may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Lord Ganesh as an offering.

6. Those with the combination of Venus and Saturn may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Lord Shiva as an offering.

7. Those with the combination of Venus and Mercury may reserve a part of their cash and dedicate it to Lord Vishnu as an offering.

Point to remember:

It's necessary and preferable to follow the specifications and offer a fair share to the planet. Life keeps getting better with the Karma aligned authentically.

Chapter

5: Moon & subconscious

Moon and Saturn Conjunction:

This is one of the most talked-about conjunctions in astrology. The Moon represents our subconscious and Saturn represents limitations, discipline, grief, and time management also. It also shows someone who wants to renounce the materialistic world and that is why you will observe this conjunction in a chart of many saintly figures.

To train your subconscious you need to accept the responsibilities. Sometimes you need to learn that to cope with a situation you need to accept it. Time management is also required to attain peace of mind.

Moon and Jupiter Conjunction:

This is a placement that shows that person will have luck by changing the place of birth. The mother will be a pious lady full of wisdom. The person will find a guru away from his birthplace. Mother can also be someone who acted as a source of wisdom and knowledge for the native.

To train your subconscious the person needs to adopt wisdom and higher knowledge. Blessings of a guru will be something that adds emotional balance to your life.

Moon and Rahu Conjunction:

The moon-Rahu conjunction is "what you see is what you become". People having this conjunction are good observers. Also, these people have a doubt/fear/unknown fear in their minds. So, if your child has moon Rahu conjunction in his horoscope then you need to be very selective on the things that you see around you.

By using the karma alignment technique, you can align yourself by adopting the positive qualities of Rahu to train your subconscious and that is observation.

Moon and Ketu Conjunction:

IF you have a Moon-Ketu combination in your horoscope then there are some precautions you should take in your life. The MoonKetu combination is What you write/feel is what you become. If you want to teach any lesson OR habit to your child, then just tell him to write about it. Whatever you write, you will become like that only.

So, by utilizing this writing habit you can learn the important lessons of life. This writing habit will also help you train your subconscious.

Moon and Venus Conjunction:

The wife of the native will be very fickle-minded. There will be an increase in wealth after the birth of the first daughter. These two are the enemy planets and that is why it is very difficult for mother-in-law and daughter-in-law to live under the same roof. This placement also causes a loss of wealth due to heavy expenses.

To train your subconscious or balance it you need to have unconditional love towards anything. The more you learn the art of giving more will come back to you.

Moon and Mercury conjunction:

One of the best conjunctions in astrology if you want to learn anything in a quick time. Here the subconscious is getting connected to your intelligence. This combination brings effortless learning to the native. Moon represents daughter and mercury is intelligence and that is why this will produce an intelligent daughter.

With this combination, one can train his subconscious mind through learning. Whatever you will learn your mind will start creating things like that only.

Moon and Sun conjunction:

Father will have to change his place of birth, or he will have a lot of travel in his life. This combination also signifies that the mother will have an authoritative nature and will have pride in her attitude. Family issues may disturb the peace of mind of the individual.

With this combination, one should always focus on the soul's enlightenment. The Sun is the purest energy in this universe. Therefore, purification of the soul is required to balance the subconscious.

Moon and Mars Conjunction:

Moon is representing your mind and thoughts. Mars is anxious and angry also. So, the person may have a lot of anxiety. But one thing is very interesting in this combination and that is Mars represents strength and Moon is mind, so it gives a strong mind. A younger brother will be someone settled in a distant place or will have a lot of traveling.

This combination signifies that physical activity or action is required to attain mental balance. Remember a healthy mind resides in a healthy body.

Chapter 6:

Jupiter and Jeeva

Jupiter and Sun Conjunction:

This is the combination also known as divine grace. You will observe many incidences in life where the person had a major accident and came out safely without even a scratch on his body. The native will attain fame due to the father's karma. Here

Jupiter crossing the sun shows that the native is born with the qualities of a father. Father will be a noble person and may become a guru or advisor to many in his life. The family of the native will also have divine blessings. This combination very much supports the birth of a son.

Jupiter and Moon Conjunction:

This is not a very good combination as here it can give a very fickle mindedness to the native. However, a change of place will bring luck to the native. He would like to travel a lot and loves good food. Mother will be a noble soul and will become a source of luck to the native. Moon here also represents the eldest daughter therefore she will have a good life with a lot of luck supporting her. The Northwest direction may bring luck to the native.

Jupiter and Mars Conjunction:

In a female chart, Mars represents the husband, and it shows that the husband will be a noble person. Husband will also have a lot of growth and expansion after marriage. One can do a lot of mantras sadhana and can attain mastery in the same line. The native will have a lot of anxiety and he will have a lot of hastiness while doing his things. He will have anger issues and they can lead the native into great trouble if Rahu also joins such a combination.

Jupiter and Rahu combinations:

The native will have a lot of insecurities in life. He may face a lot of humiliation in his life. The grandfather of the native is a nobleman. Even native is also a reincarnation of his forefathers as well. The native will have a lot of growth and support in foreign lands. Native may have a lot of interest in photography as well. Sudden utterances from a native's mouth may become true many times. Rahu here stands for grandfather and Jupiter represents guru, wisdom, and guidance. Therefore, the grandfather of the native will have all the above-mentioned qualities.

Jupiter Saturn Conjunction:

This is one of the best combinations when it comes to career success and professional stability. In Kal Purusha, Kundli Jupiter rules the 9th house of luck and Saturn rules the tenth house of karma. Therefore, it makes one of the most powerful raj yoga in a horoscope. The person always has a comfortable work profile with steady growth as well. The person may do well in the field represented by Jupiter like teachers, gurus, counselors, judges, or religious preachers.

Jupiter Mercury Conjunction:

The native will be a quick learner because of the mercurial support. Native has got a habit of touching his nose while talking. Native has got a good sense of humor. The person is a good network builder and therefore got a huge social circle. The native is always inclined to do business rather than a job. If Jupiter has crossed mercury, then it shows that whatever the native has learned in his past life will come to him in this life also.

Jupiter Venus Conjunction:

This is a combination of the rise of luck after marriage. The native will always have that much amount of money that is needed to fulfill his basic needs. Their wife comes from a large and noble family. However, the attitude of the native towards wealth will be known through the degree of these two planets. If Venus is ahead of Jupiter, then the person will be running towards materialism and wealth. If Jupiter is ahead of Venus, then the person will not be running too much towards materialism. In this life, the divine grace in natives' life is coming through any female goddess.

Jupiter Ketu Conjunction:

This combination gives birth to a spiritual soul. Some spiritual power always works behind the native. This combination always forces the native to lean toward the Ketu-related matters like meditation, gardening, or the occult. The maternal grandfather of the native will be a learned nobleman. Native always got his task getting stuck at the final stage. However, if the native utilizes the energy of Ketu positively. Then the person will experience a lot of luck in his life. Ketu also represents your intention towards everything. So, whenever you have such a combination in the chart then make sure that you need to clear your intention before doing any task.

Chapter 7:

Saturn Transit and career success

Saturn transit over the sun:

When transiting Saturn moves towards the natal sun then one will have fame and recognition. As we all know that sun and Saturn are enemy planets, therefore, there may be some issues coming up with the authorities, higher officials, and bosses at the workplace. Father and the eldest son of the native will have major ups and downs in their career. Native may experience hyperacidity issues during this period and some calcium deficiency may also get noted. Many times, you will observe that a native will have an unsatisfaction throughout his career.

Saturn transit over the moon:

When Saturn transit over the natal Moon then the native may become a lot fickle minded in case of his career. He will plan or may change his career during this transit. There may be a transfer or change of place due to his work. There may be a lot of traveling getting involved because of the work. If the above-mentioned activities are not happening, then the native may have been blamed for his career. Those having their career associated with the moonlike restaurant owners, chefs, chemical engineers, food businesses, and tours and travels. The mother or the eldest daughter will have significant events in their profession.

Saturn transit over the Mars:

When Saturn transit over natal mars then one may face a lot of challenges in his profession. There be conspiracies happening behind the back of the native. The native will experience a lot of anger and fight in his work area. However, a female chart shows some significant changes in the husband's career. In a male's chart, the above statement holds true for the younger brother. Those having their career related to the signification of mars are going to be benefited the most during this transit. Sportsmen, defense personnel, engineers, builders, and Vastu consultants will see a significant rise in their careers.

Saturn transit over the Rahu:

When Saturn transit over natal Rahu then the person may develop insecurities in his profession. Rahu also makes one unethical and gets involved in secret activities. The person will also try to maintain secrecy in his profession. If the native is involved in the professions related to Rahu like cinema, online activities, secret service, and unconventional careers. If the native is planning to settle abroad due to his line of work. Then this is the right time for the native to plan such activities. Rahu also involved last rights and Saturn is karma karaka. Therefore, one will perform last right during this period. Grandfathers of the native will have a lot of work and responsibilities during this period. The combination of Saturn Rahu also shows that one can be attacked by some evil spirit, or some black magic may get performed for the native.

Saturn transit over the Jupiter:

Saturn transit over the natal Jupiter is one of the best transits as far as career rise is concerned. Jupiter is the karaka of luck and expansion and therefore the person will have expansion and growth in his profession. If the person was facing some issues in his profession before this transit. The problem will start vanishing and the career will have a smooth run. Saturn also represents the elder brother, and he will have a good and blissful time in his life. New career opportunities may come up in the native's life and he will be benefitted from them. The native will perform some religious ceremonies and get involved in some charitable and noble work.

Saturn transit over the Mercury:

This is a very fruitful transit for those who are having their career related to education. One may peruse some education which may help the native in his profession. New business opportunities may come up and deal related to new business ventures may get finalized. A solid network related to the profession of the native will start getting built during this transit. The native will have new friends at the workplace. However, if natal mercury is connected to the planet's moon. Then one may have blamed his profession due to these new friends. If planet Rahu is joined to the natal Mercury, then one may develop some illicit relationship with the opposite sex.

Saturn transit over the Ketu:

One of the most challenging transits is the transit of Saturn over natal Ketu. The reason behind this is that Ketu represents delinking and Saturn represents the profession. Therefore, this transit can bring a break in the profession. The work atmosphere will not be very smooth because of which the native may think of quitting the present work. Ketu is also about liberation and moksha and when Saturn moves over natal Ketu. It makes the person detached from worldly desires and turns him into a spiritual person. If someone is having a profession related to Ketu, like medical professionals, healers, tailors, astrologers, and legal then this transit may not prove bad for you. Doing charitable work and doing regular meditation will help you in overcoming the difficulties caused by this transit.

Saturn transit over the Venus:

One of the most favorable transits related to one's career is the transit of Saturn over natal Venus. The person will have a lot of wealth from his profession. Long pending financial transactions will get finalized. The work atmosphere and ambiance will be as per the native's expectations. The male native will get support from the opposite sex at the workplace. However, one may get the blame in his career due to the opposite sex if Natal Venus is conjoined with the moon in the birth chart. wife of the native who has no work may get new work opportunities. If not involved in some professional activities, the wife may develop sickness and laziness. Native who got their profession linked with the significance of Venus will perform quite well.

Chapter 8:

Jupiter Transit and life of an individual.

Jupiter transit over the sun : Native will experience respect and honor in the society. He may get recognition in the workplace. He may get support from the government. There may be a birth of a son to the native. This is a very positive transit for the eldest son and father of the native. If the father is having some problems physically or professionally then they will start getting diminished due to this transit. Son will prosper in his life due to the support of luck and divine grace.

Jupiter transit over the Moon :

Native may have a lot of travel during this period. There may be a change of place also. This transit grants female children to the native. If the moon is linked with benefic planets like Jupiter sun mercury, then natives will experience a lot of mental solace during this period. This is overall a good transit for the mother and elder daughter of the native as they will have a pretty good time during this transit.

Jupiter transit over natal mars :

Native during this transit will develop anger issues and may have anxiety. Native may get some land-related work to do like construction. Brother of the native will have growth and a good time during this period. In the case of a female horoscope. This transit shows a prosperous time for the husband. However, for the native himself, this transit can bring some blood-related issues like BP and migraine.

Jupiter Transit over natal Rahu:

This is not a welcome transit as this transit can bring physical danger to the native. The native will develop insecurities in life that may be professional or personal. However, this transit can bring foreign travel to the native. The person may develop an interest in photography and other shadowrelated skills. Native may also plan to settle abroad. Those working in the shadow-related field, or their career is related to the significance of Rahu. This transit will bring a lot of positive changes in life.

Jupiter Transit over natal Saturn : This is positive transit in terms of the career of the native. This transit will bring growth, recognition, and upliftment to my career. Overall, the person will have a pretty good time in his profession. The person will gain respect in society for his actions. He himself will be engaged in some charitable and religious deeds. This transit will be a good period for elder siblings also. He will have prosperity in life with growth and enhancement in his knowledge and skills.

Jupiter transit over natal Mercury : This is a good transit if someone is a student as a lot of educational progress is seen. If the native is doing some job. Then he will start developing an inclination toward doing business. He may become quite social and engaged himself with relatives and friends. Business dealing will be successful. He will get gains in dealings related to lands. He will be successful in clearing interviews and group discussions.

Jupiter transit over natal

Venus : Venus is wealth and luxury in one's life. Wealth luck of the native will be at boom during this transit. Native may get married during this period. He may get a new home or vehicle during this period. The wife will have a lucky time during this period and will get involved in charitable and religious deeds. One of the daughters will also do well in life. Overall, a beautiful transit to ease financial tensions and bring wealth opportunities to one's life.

Jupiter transit over natal Ketu :

This is a very good period for spiritual development for a native. He will encounter divinity and divine grace will be upon him. However, he might not be interested in worldly matters. He will start taking interest in meditation, yoga, and occult-related matters. There may be some physical discomfort and native may feel like procrastinating all the time. If the native is very materialistic in nature. Then this transit will create low mood and depression-related problems.

Chapter 9:

Marriage and relationship

Before analyzing the relationship part, one needs to know what all the planets represent in the case of marriage and relationship. Sun here represents one's family and therefore when the sun Venus conjunction is there in a male chart, family plays a very important role in case of marriage. Similarly in a female's chart family become's very important when there is a conjunction of the sun and mars.

Sun : family, father, and eldest son.

Moon: mother, eloping, blames, cheating, and eldest daughter.

Mars: Younger brother, husband, disputes.

Mercury: Girlfriend/Boyfriend, enjoyment, happiness, friends, and relatives.

Venus: wife, relationship, attraction.

Saturn: elder brother, delay, and grief.

Rahu: problems, unexpected events, unethical activities, doubtfulness.

Ketu: Delinking and breakage in a relationship, spirituality, and liberation.

Jupiter: Devine grace, ethics, morality, wisdom, knowledge, and respect.

For judging a wife's nature through a male chart placement of Venus is to be considered and the planet getting linked with Venus will reveal the wife's traits.

Sun-Venus: Venus or the wife has crossed the planet sun and therefore has its traits in her. The wife will have a nature or appearance very similar to her father. She is having a respectable family background. She may have an authoritative nature. The laws may have a link with the government like working in the government sector.

Moon-Venus : Venus or the wife here has attained the qualities of the planet moon. The wife may have a fickle-minded nature along with a tendency to blame others or get herself blamed. She may hail from a distant place. Native himself may get cheated on or get a bad name due to a female.

Mars-Venus : Venus or the wife will be an action-oriented person. She may have anger issues as well. It also shows disputes and tensions with the wife. Marriage will become a cause of anxiety for the native. The wife may come from a family of landlords. Mars ahead of Venus shows that the girl was the wife of the native in the previous birth as well.

Rahu-Venus: she may have had a difficult life or troublesome period prior to the marriage. The wife will have suspicious nature, and this can cause drift in their relationship. This also shows that the wife may come from a different caste or culture and many times wife may be a foreigner.

Mercury-Venus: wife will be social, fun-loving, and got sweet communication skills. She will have a good intellect and quite a decent educational background. She hails from a family with good commercial or educational background. The wife will have a wide friend circle with a happy-go-lucky attitude. She will also have the inbuilt commercial and business skills.

Jupiter-Venus: wife is a noble soul with wisdom and knowledge. She will have divine contemplation. She will bring luck to the family of the husband. Her family is having a noble background. She will also get honor and respect in society because of her virtual deeds if Jupiter is ahead of Venus.

Ketu Venus: Not a very good position if the marital life of the native is concerned. However, a person will be able to enjoy his family life if the wife is having a non-materialistic attitude towards life. This spiritual lifestyle of a wife will bring a lot of wealth to the native. It is advisable for the native's wife not to trim hair frequently.

Saturn-Venus: Saturn is the karma karaka and Venus is the wife and that is the reason this combination gives a working wife to the male native. She will be a responsible person but can be quite lazy also. Saturn is the karaka of disease and health problems also, therefore the wife of the native will have diseases and she may have a weak bodily constitution. The marriage of the native can be delayed. However, the profession of the male native will be going to improve after marriage.

For judging a husband's nature through a female chart placement of Mars is to be considered and the planet getting linked with Mars will reveal the husband's traits.

Sun-Mars : husband comes from a well-known and respectable family. The husband will be a famous and known personality because of the association with the sun. He will be an authoritative personality and may work closely with the government. He will have all the qualities of his father. Overall, this is a powerful combination but if the sun is ahead of mars and Rahu is linked with the combination then there will be a lot of false ego in the husband.

Moon-Mars: Husband will be a fickle-minded personality. If the moon is ahead of mars, then he could have thievish and cheating tendencies also. However, this combination will help the husband if he is involved in a profession that has got traveling involved. Husband will surely be going to have a change in place, residence, or profession within a few years of marriage. He may get involved in adulterous things and may create relations with the opposite sex and he will have blame because of this.

Rahu-Mars : Husband may have difficulties in his early life. He may hold many secrets within himself. He could have the danger to his body many times in his life. This is not a good combination to have when it comes to marriage and relationships. If Rahu is ahead of mars, then the husband may get into bad company and perform unethical activities. This combination many times gives an unconventional marriage as the husband may be from a different culture. Husband can be a foreigner also.

Jupiter-Mars : Husband is from a noble and gentle background. He might be living in a big or a joint family. He will be a lucky person and will always have divine support. He will also have a lot of growth and expansion after the marriage. He will be a person with a religious and wisdom-oriented mindset and will follow idealism especially if Jupiter is ahead of Mars.

Saturn Mars: Husband may have a diseased body or may have chronic health issues. He hails from a service-class family. This also indicates a late marriage in a female's chart. Husband will also have a rise in career after Venus-Mars : Husband comes from a wealthy and affluent family. He will be beautiful and attractive in looks. However, if Venus is ahead of mars, then it will give a materialistic nature to the husband. He will have great financial growth only after marriage. He likes to have a life full of luxury and comfort whereas the female herself is a hardworking and action-oriented woman. It is observed that many times female is very much into eyeing every action of the husband or may develop a doubtful nature towards her husband.

Ketu-Mars : This is not a very welcome combination for a good married life. The husband of the native may feel like quitting everything in the material world.

He may also not give proper attention to his wife which may result in separation or divorce. However, if Ketu is ahead of mars, then it is more problematic for a relationship as it gives adamant behavior to the husband. He may also have bodily problems. Overall saying that Ketu ahead of mars is a very problematic combination when it comes to marriage. However, if the husband is a doctor, healer, lawyer, or astrologer then this combination will not give very much bad effects to the female native.

Chapter 10:

Venus and your house (Karma Alignment & Vastu)

Venus and our house:

We all wish to visualize the best ideas. And when it comes to our house, we all love to transform it into a sweet home. And whenever we imagine something sweet or lovely, we can't help musing over Venus. Of course, it represents our comforts. The planet even indicates our home. How do we establish its overall connectivity with our neighborhood?

Now get set to explore your home's ambient connectivity with style and elegance!

Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) gives great clues to our house and its Vastu. It offers hundreds of links about our home, its ambient atmosphere, and its neighborhood. The planets that a native's Venus has already crossed may be prominent or evident in the place they reside.

This statement implies that if the altitude of the Venus in your chart exceeds a planet or more, you may witness the qualities of those celestial entities manifesting around your house. Let's find out what your home defines on your behalf.

Venus and Ketu: Journeying with divinity towards the divine:

The natives with Ketu in lower degrees and Venus in higher degrees may be residing in a house cuddled in a narrow lane. These natives may be staying in a tranquil colony closed from almost every significant direction. Most of these natives see a Ganesh temple nestled in the proximity.

An adorable Yoga center may be yet another place you may welcome if you have Ketu surging towards Venus in your horoscope. A flag erected around your abode becomes yet another crucial possibility if you have Ketu conjoining Venus in your horoscope. A few natives having their Ketu approaching Venus may have a house in an open lane. But traffic jams may become a crucial part of these lanes.

The natives with Venus in lower degrees and Ketu in higher degrees may encounter a range of scenarios in their quest for the perfect home. Most of these natives may embark on a search for the best house. They may end up relocating multiple times, abandoning a list of places. And they may settle with a house set amidst a closed lane.

Jupiter and Venus: Uniting with didacticism:

If Jupiter, the divine bigwig, is heading towards Venus, the celestial sybarite in your horoscope, you may welcome a school each time you build a house.

Mercury and Venus: Lush vegetation, arcades of shopping, and much more:

Mercury, as we know, represents greenery, vegetation, volatility in a nutshell, and most importantly, the marketplace, a place that ushers volatility every minute. If you have Mercury in lower degrees approaching Venus, you may be living with lush vegetation around. An adorable marketplace may also be around your house.

Venus and Mars: Culminating with something unique or Martian?

If a native has Venus in earlier degrees and Mars at a higher altitude, such a person may have a gym or a police station around the house. A few conflicts may, however, surprise these natives regularly or sporadically. Of course, it's easy to guess the reason. Venus making a beeline for the causative of conflicts may withstand a few commotions.

But when there's a will, a way will welcome your right decision at the right time. A house facing the south direction may not prove effective in most scenarios. One can enjoy the dream comforts by preferring a place near Hanuman temple. Our volition or free will helps us everywhere, with the divine supporting our decisions.

Venus and Sun: The kingship and the ministerial acumen: Sun is the soul. It's the purest energy governing living beings. Its governance gives many reasons to celebrate the creative streak and utilize responsible freedom. And when the purest source of energy merges into Venus, the head of pure love, the combination itself becomes the reason to uncover marvelous truths. When Venus joins Sun in your horoscope, you may have a temple nearby. These natives often have a government office around their house. Their neighbors may also be government servants. These natives are likely to prefer established conurbations or posh areas to build houses. These natives exhibit the most classic goods as their style quotient. The luxurious and prestigious items they buy may belong to the most expensive brands.

Moon and Venus: Here comes the amalgamation of hedonism and sophism:

The queen denotes a sense of sophism as nobody else does. Waterbodies or watercourses around a few houses make them unique. A few people look avid and vivid for no valid or known reason. If you want to find out the reason, you may stumble upon a combination. The conjunction is Moon and Venus conjunction. They may spend a part of their life in a place facing the northwest. Seepage may become a common concern in their abodes if Rahu influences this conjunction significantly.

Rahu and Venus: Because nothing can create a sharper mirage than the Dragon's head:

Imperialism and expansionism can create many things. They may generate illusions. Most importantly, a mirage they create may remain fresh on your minds forever. That's what turns real when Rahu, the primordial source of mirage, joins an entity like Venus. If you have the conjunction of Rahu and Venus, you may live in a house with an irregular shape. You may even witness ghostly entities or paranormal activities at home. You may lead an enviable life inside a condominium or a multistoried house. The architecture of the house may be unique in many ways. The features of its interiors or innards may astonish or entice many viewers. The home may invite hundreds of views with raised eyebrows. Many of such houses have a hospital or a graveyard around.

What's Karma Alignment Technique (KAT)? What does it create as a part of our consciousness?

Karma Alignment Technique utilizes the most evolutionary aspects of our consciousness. The better part of the technique lies in how it becomes a part of our routine. It modifies our day-to-day life to form a more meaningful lifestyle we have waited for decades. And now comes the best interest of the Karma Alignment Technique. It helps us evolve day by day into the one we want to become for ourselves and our loved ones. The technique authenticates the statement that there's a torchbearer in us who can head, lead and succeed.

Until now, we restricted our consciousness to planetary combinations and conjunctions. The Karma Alignment Technique (KAT) integrates our consciousness into everything we can augment with our knowledge, education, or wisdom.
